Index to volume 23

EDITORIALS

Burnard, Pamela and Jane Cheung, 23(3), 187–190
Cheung, Jane, see Pamela Burnard
Johnson, Christopher M., 23(1), 5–7
Lindeman, Carolynn A., 23(2), 91–92

ARTICLES

Baker, David, Music service teachers' life histories in the United Kingdom with implications for practice, 23(3), 263–277
Benson, Cynthia, and C. Victor Fung, Comparisons of teacher and student behaviors in private piano lessons in China and the United States, 23(1), 63–72
Bergee, Martin J., An exploratory comparison of novice, intermediate, and expert orchestral conductors, 23(1), 23–36
Bowman, Wayne, To what question(s) is music education advocacy the answer?, 23(2), 125–129
Children's voices: quotes from children about music and its importance, 23(2), 179–181
Chu, Jia-Ying, and Mary Copland Kennedy, Integrated arts textbooks in Taiwan and the USA: a single series examination, 23(3), 249–261
Clark, Sylvia, Mariachi music as a symbol of Mexican culture in the United States, 23(3), 227–237
Emmanuel, Donna T., The effects of a music education immersion internship in a culturally diverse setting on the beliefs and attitudes of pre-service music teachers, 23(1), 49–62
Fung, C. Victor see Cynthia Benson
Gruhn, Wilfried, Children need music, 23(2), 99–101
Hallam, Susan, The power of music, 23(2), 145–148
Hennessy, Sarah, 'Taiko SouthWest': developing a 'new' musical tradition in English schools, 23(3), 217–226
Hodges, Donald A., Why study music?, 23(2), 111–115
Kennedy, Mary Copland, see Jia-Ying Chu
Klopper, Christopher, World sounds through universal fellowship: linking African sounds through collaborative networking, 23(2), 153–158

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF MUSIC EDUCATION Copyright © 2005 International Society for Music Education
Vol 23(3) 279-280 [(200512)23:3] 10.1177/0255761405058244 http://ijm.sagepub.com

Lehman, Paul, Advocacy for music education: ten tips to strengthen your music program, 23(2), 175–178
Leong, Samuel, see Eve Ruddock
Leung, Bo Wah, Resources for music education advocacy, 23(2), 167–174
Luzha, Besa, Music brings people together in postwar Kosovo, 23(2), 149–151
Mark, Michael L., Why does our profession need advocacy? 23(2), 95–98
Nettl, Bruno, An ethnomusicological perspective, 23(2), 131–133
O'Flynn, John, Re-appraising ideas of musicality in intercultural contexts of music education, 23(3), 191–203
Oliveira, Alda, Music teaching as culture: introducing the pontes approach, 23(3), 205–216
Olsson, Bengt, A credo of music pedagogy, 23(2), 121–123
Peretz, Isabelle, The nature of music, 23(2), 103–105
Phuthego, Mothusi, Teaching and learning African music and Jaques-Dalcroze's eurhythmics, 23(3), 239–248
Reimer, Bennett, The danger of music education advocacy, 23(2), 139–142
Rohwer, Debbie, Teaching the adult beginning instrumentalist: ideas from practitioners, 23(1), 37–47
Ruddock, Eve, and Samuel Leong, 'I am unmusical!': the verdict of self-judgement, 23(1), 9–22
Walker, Robert, A worthy function for music in education, 23(2), 135–138
Wasiak, Edwin B., Iitaohkanao'pi – The Meeting Place Project: an alternative approach to young people's concerts, 23(1), 73–88
Welch, Graham F., We are musical, 23(2), 117–120
What ISME believes: advocacy for music education, 23(2), 183–184
Yick-ming, Rosanna Wong, Music in education is education for life, 23(2), 107–109
Younghusband, Peter, Remote music: how it happens in Western Australia's Pilbara, 23(2), 159–163